Jamie Kilpatrick awarded WEC scholarship

The experience and knowledge gained in earning a college education is priceless, but it comes with a steep financial cost. For Jamie Leigh Kilpatrick of Ashford High School, that cost has been lessened thanks to a $1,000 scholarship awarded to her from the Electric Cooperative Foundation through Wiregrass Electric Cooperative. Preserving history while building for tomorrow

If walls could talk, then the mural inside the Johnny Hughes Community Center in Hartford would tell the history and culture of this small Wiregrass town.

July Energy Saving Tip

Is your washing machine more than 10 years old? According to the U.S. Department of Energy, families can cut related energy costs by more than a third -- and water costs by more than half -- by purchasing a clothes washer with and ENERGY STAR label. Choose a front-load or redesigned top-load model.

EPA getting aggressive with regulations

by Michael S. McWaters

July 11, 2011

The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) continues to keep electric utilities busy with its aggressive regulations. Wiregrass Electric Co-op and our wholesale power provider, PowerSouth Energy Cooperative, are tracking several regulatory measures that have the potential to raise the price of electricity for consumers. . .
